

To whom it may concern:

I am a Lucas family member that lives in the Houston area. I am very concerned about David Temple being released on bond into the community. Having been found guilty two times already, what else must be done to keep him behind bars?! He made what sounded like threats on news reports upon his release for retrial. He made consistant angry scowls at various witnesses during his trial. At this point he has nothing to lose if he harasses or hurts anyone.

However, if he must be released on bond for some reason, please make it several million dollars. Also, can you make him wear an ankle tracker and not be allowed to leave his house for any reason, except to visit his doctor or attorney. He should not be able to drive his parents around, eat out, visit others, attend church services, etc. Make it so he cannot wander around the Katy or Houston area as people are very concerned and afraid as he did horrible things in this community to people in the past.

Please hear us and consider the fact that our families are the victims in this, not David.

Thank you.
